

MAGICA ONLUS, Italy

Magica was founded in 2006 by a 33 y.o. patient of CMGCV, Matteo, affected by Marfan Syndrome. After a check-up, while speaking with the director of the center Prof. Eloisa Arbustini, he had the idea to create an entity to sustain the families followed by the Center who suffered inherited cardiovascular diseases like him.

Magica's main objectives are:

- To guarantee continuity of care over time both in terms of supporting the continuity of the clinical activity of the center and in terms of helping patients to sustain costs for clinical check-ups.
- To provide correct information on these disease to patients and to general practitioners.
- To promote solidarity both among patients and other charities creating charity networks.
- To foster the development of research on heritable cardiovascular diseases through voluntary donations.
